BIOGRAPHY

Retro Riff is a DJ and producer bringing the emotion of classic rave culture into the modern era of trance and techno. Inspired by the energy, atmosphere and unforgettable moments that defined dance music's golden years, the Retro Riff alias was created with one clear vision: That old feeling rebuilt for the new era of trance and techno.

Before launching the Retro Riff alias, he performed across Ibiza, the UK and Ireland, sharing line ups with respected names from the electronic music scene. After stepping away from music for several years, he returned with a renewed vision, and his productions quickly began attracting attention from respected labels and internationally recognised artists alike.

His music has been released on Autektone and Underground Fusion, with two forthcoming releases signed to Dreamstate / Insomniac, including Belfast Sunrise. His productions have received support from Maddix, Hannah Laing, T78, Trancemaster Krause and other internationally recognised artists, with Hannah Laing featuring one of his tracks during her Creamfields set. His track Obsessed also reached No. 32 in the Beatport Techno Top 100.

Driven by euphoria, powered by energy and inspired by nostalgia, Retro Riff continues to rebuild the feeling that made dance music unforgettable.
